This brochure supplement provides information about Steven G. Albert, and supplements the information contained in the brochure of Glass Jacobson Investment Advisors, LLC (“Glass Jacobson” or the “Company”). You should have received a copy of that brochure. Please contact Jonathan Dinkins, Chief Compliance Officer of Glass Jacobson, if you did not receive Glass Jacobson’s brochure or if you have any questions about the contents of this supplement.

Additional information about Mr. Albert is available on the SEC’s website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

ITEM 2. EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Mr. Albert was born in 1954, and has been a Member of Glass Jacobson since 1998 and as an investment advisor representative since 2006. In addition, he has been a shareholder in Glass Jacobson, PA, a CPA firm owned by certain Members of the Company, since 1997 and is a Member of Glass Jacobson Consulting, LLC, a business consulting firm. He graduated with a B.S. in Accounting from the University of Baltimore in 1976, and earned an M.S. in Taxation from the University of Baltimore in 1980 and is a Certified Public Accountant (CPA). Mr. Albert holds the following professional designation: CPA.

Certified Public Accountant (CPA). CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two year period or 120 hours over a three year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

ITEM 3. DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

Not applicable.

ITEM 4. OTHER BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

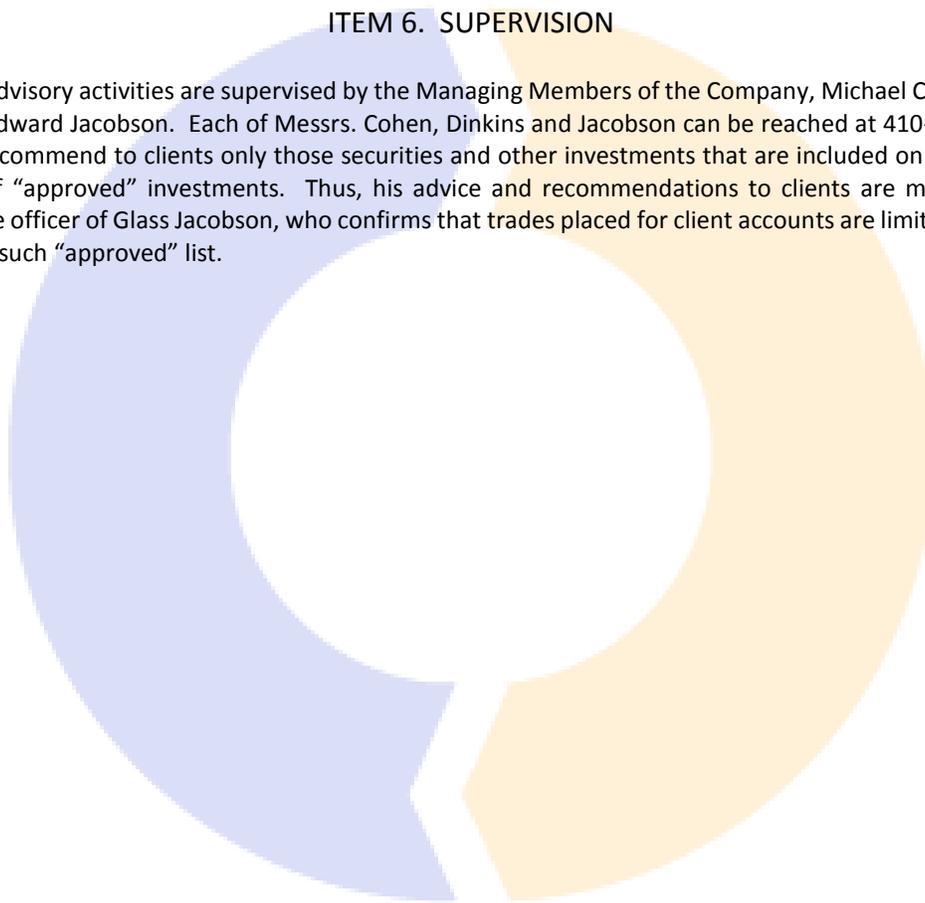

Certain Members of Glass Jacobson, including Mr. Albert, are shareholders of a CPA firm, Glass Jacobson, PA. Also, Mr. Albert is a Member of Glass Jacobson Consulting, LLC, a business consulting firm, and Glass Jacobson Capital Advisors, LLC, a corporate finance, merger and acquisition advisory services firm. Mr. Albert devotes a substantial amount of his time to these firms, which account for a substantial source of his income.

ITEM 5. ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION

Not applicable.

ITEM 6. SUPERVISION

Mr. Albert's advisory activities are supervised by the Managing Members of the Company, Michael Cohen, Jonathan Dinkins and Edward Jacobson. Each of Messrs. Cohen, Dinkins and Jacobson can be reached at 410-356-1000. Mr. Albert may recommend to clients only those securities and other investments that are included on the Company's current list of "approved" investments. Thus, his advice and recommendations to clients are monitored by an administrative officer of Glass Jacobson, who confirms that trades placed for client accounts are limited to securities appearing on such "approved" list.

Please contact Jonathan Dinkins, Chief Compliance Officer of Glass Jacobson, if you did not receive Glass Jacobson’s brochure or if you have any questions about the contents of this supplement.

Additional information about Mr. Cannon is available on the SEC’s website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

ITEM 2. EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Mr. Cannon was born in 1967 and joined Glass Jacobson as an investment advisor representative in 2014. He currently serves as its Director of Retirement Plan Services. He graduated with a B.S. from the University of Maryland in 1990. Mr. Cannon holds the following professional designations: ARPC and AIF®.

Accredited Retirement Plan Consultant (ARPC). The Accredited Retirement Plan Consultant (ARPC) designation recognizes individual proficiency in the retirement plan industry. The ARPC designation is earned by sales and marketing professionals who help employers sponsor plans that enable employees to effectively save and plan for retirement. The ARPC designation has been accredited by the National Commission for Certifying Agencies (NCCA) which provides independent third-party validation that the ARPC program meets or exceeds 21 standards regarding its purpose, structure, governance, psychometric foundation, policies and procedures.

Eligibility for the ARPC designation requires 1 year of full-time experience in the retirement plan industry, a letter of recommendation from a current manager and successful completion of the proctored ARPC examination. ARPC certification status is granted on a calendar year basis and requires a minimum of 10 continuing education credits each year to ensure that individuals who hold the ARPC designation are continually exposed to current information directly related to advanced topics in the retirement plan industry.

Accredited Investment Fiduciary (AIF®). The Accredited Investment Fiduciary (AIF®) certifies that the recipient has advanced knowledge of fiduciary standards of care, their application to the investment management process, and procedures for assessing conformance by third parties to fiduciary standards. To be eligible to receive the AIFA designation, individuals must have already completed the AIF training program and passed the AIF exam and meet a minimum prerequisite score based on the candidate’s educational background and professional training and experience in investing, financial services and auditing. To receive the AIFA designation, individuals must complete a training program, successfully pass a comprehensive, closed-book final examination under the supervision of a proctor and agree to abide by the AIFA Code of Ethics. In order to maintain the AIFA designation, the individual must annually renew their affirmation of the AIFA Code of Ethics and complete ten hours of continuing education credits. The certification is administered by the Center for Fiduciary Studies, LLC (a Fiduciary360 (fi360) company).

ITEM 3. DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

Not applicable.

ITEM 4. OTHER BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

Mr. Cannon also serves as a registered sales assistant of Triad Advisors, Inc. ("TRIAD"), a registered broker-dealer (CRD No. 25803), member FINRA/SIPC. However Mr. Cannon in his separate capacity as a registered sales assistant will not receive compensation from any commissionable products or transactions. We do not believe that this activity constitutes a material conflict of interest with our clients.

Similarly, Mr. Cannon is licensed to sell life and health insurance products through various companies, and he may receive compensation in the form of commissions for the sale of such products. This creates a conflict similar to that with respect to his role as a registered representative of Triad. However, Glass Jacobson has addressed this conflict by fully disclosing to clients the potential for such conflict in its brochure and in its financial planning agreements. Additionally, clients are under no obligation to purchase insurance products through Mr. Cannon or other investment adviser representatives of Glass Jacobson and are free to choose the sources through which to implement any recommendation to purchase such life and health insurance products.

ITEM 5. ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION

Investment adviser representatives of Glass Jacobson, including Mr. Cannon, are eligible to receive a bonus each year that is based, at least in part, on the number of new clients/accounts they bring to the Company. Such bonus is based on the amount of fees generated from the new clients/accounts.

ITEM 6. SUPERVISION

Mr. Cannon's advisory activities are supervised by the Managing Members of the Company, Michael Cohen, Jonathan Dinkins and Edward Jacobson. Each of Messrs. Cohen, Dinkins and Jacobson can be reached at 410-356-1000. Mr. Cannon may recommend to clients only those securities and other investments that are included on the Company's current list of "approved" investments. Thus, his advice and recommendations to clients are monitored by an administrative officer of Glass Jacobson, who confirms that trades placed for client accounts are limited to securities appearing on such "approved" list.

ITEM 2. EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Mr. Cohen was born in 1954 and has been a Managing Member of Glass Jacobson since 1998 and as an investment advisor representative since 2000. Mr. Cohen joined Glass Jacobson, PA, a CPA firm owned by certain Members of the Company, in 1990 and currently is a shareholder of the firm, as well as a Member of Glass Jacobson Consulting, LLC, a business consulting firm. He graduated with a B.S. in Accounting from Towson State College in 1976 is a Certified Public Accountant (CPA), and a Chartered Global Management Accountant. Mr. Cohen holds the following professional designations: CPA, and CGMA.

Certified Public Accountant (CPA). CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

Chartered Global Management Accountant (CGMA). The Chartered Global Management Accountant (CGMA) is a global management accounting designation that recognizes the unique role played by men and women at organizations around the world who combine accounting and financial expertise with strategic insight to guide better business decisions. Additionally, it recognizes the management accounting experience and expertise of accountants in academia. Created through a joint venture of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) and the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (CIMA), the CGMA designation recognizes the competencies and expertise of management accountants who are leading the world’s most successful organizations, and teaching at universities around the world, preparing the management accounting leaders of tomorrow. It demonstrates management accounting expertise in such areas as leading strategically with management to make more informed decisions; helping organizations manage change, risk and uncertainty; protecting corporate assets; and promoting operational efficiency and effectiveness.

ITEM 4. OTHER BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

Mr. Cohen also serves as a registered representative of Triad Advisors, Inc. ("TRIAD"), a registered broker-dealer (CRD No. 25803), member FINRA/SIPC. A conflict of interest may exist between Mr. Cohen's interests and the interests of financial planning clients when Mr. Cohen recommends securities that may be purchased through him as a registered representative of Triad. In such cases, Mr. Cohen would receive a commission on the purchase or sale recommended by him. This gives him an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation to be received, rather than on a client's needs. Glass Jacobson believes that such conflict is addressed by fully disclosing to clients in its brochure and in its financial planning agreements that registered representatives may receive additional compensation on the purchase or sale of certain securities. Additionally, no client is under any obligation to act on Mr. Cohen or Glass Jacobson's recommendation. If a client elects to act on any of the recommendations, the client is under no obligation to effect the transactions through Mr. Cohen or another registered representative of Triad who is also an investment adviser representative of Glass Jacobson.

Similarly, Mr. Cohen is licensed to sell life and health insurance products through various companies, and he may receive compensation in the form of commissions for the sale of such products. This creates a conflict similar to that with respect to his role as a registered representative of Triad. However, Glass Jacobson has addressed this conflict by fully disclosing to clients the potential for such conflict in its brochure and in its financial planning agreements. Additional information about Mr. Creamer is available on the SEC’s website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

ITEM 2. EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Mr. Creamer was born in 1968 and joined Glass Jacobson in 2011 as an investment advisor representative. Since 1999 he has been the owner and President of OneSource FSG, Inc., a tax services and accounting firm. From 2009 until 2011 Mr. Creamer was a Branch Manager and Financial Advisor of National Planning Corporation, and from 2000-2009 he was a registered representative and investment advisor representative of Medallion Advisory Services, LLC. Mr. Creamer is a Certified Public Accountant and Principal with Glass Jacobson, PA, a CPA firm owned by certain Members of the Company. He received a B.S. in Accounting from St. Joseph’s University in 1990. Mr. Creamer holds the following professional designations: CPA, CFP®, CDFA™ and ADPA®.

Certified Public Accountant (CPA). CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ (CFP®). The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ (CFP®) certification is awarded by the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards Inc. to individuals who meet education, examination, experience and ethics requirements. Educational requirements include completing a set of courses on financial planning or, alternatively, previously achieved certain designations such as a CPA or attorney. Currently, applicants must also pass a ten-hour examination, have at least three years of qualifying work experience in the profession, and must agree to adhere to a Code of Ethics. Every two years, all CFP® practitioners must meet re-accreditation requirements by obtaining 30 hours of continuing education credits, including two hours of ethics training.

Certified Divorce Financial Analyst® (CDFA™). A Certified Divorce Financial Analyst® (CDFA™) is someone who comes from a financial planning, accounting or legal background and goes through an intensive training program to become skilled in analyzing and providing expertise related to the financial issues of divorce. The role of the CDFATM professional is to help both the client and lawyer understand how the financial decisions made today will impact the client's financial future, based on certain assumptions.

All CDFATM professionals adhere to a Code of Ethics and are required to renew their designation every two years by completing 15 hours of continuing education, reaffirming their adherence to the CDFATM Professional Practice Standards.

Accredited Domestic Partnership AdvisorSM (ADPA®). Individuals who hold the Accredited Domestic Partnership AdvisorSM (ADPA®) designation have completed a course of study encompassing wealth transfers, federal taxation, retirement planning, and planning for financial and medical end-of-life needs for domestic partners. Additionally, individuals must pass an end-of-course examination that tests their ability to synthesize complex concepts and apply theoretical concepts to real-life situations.

All designees have agreed to adhere to Standards of Professional Conduct and are subject to a disciplinary process. Designees renew their designation every two-years by completing 16 hours of continuing education, reaffirming adherence to the Standards of Professional Conduct and complying with self-disclosure requirements.

ITEM 3. DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

ITEM 4. OTHER BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

Mr. Creamer also serves as a registered representative of Triad Advisors, Inc. ("TRIAD"), a registered broker-dealer (CRD No. 25803), member FINRA/SIPC. A conflict of interest may exist between Mr. Creamer's interests and the interests of financial planning clients when Mr. Creamer recommends securities that may be purchased through him as a registered representative of Triad. In such cases, Mr. Creamer would receive a commission on the purchase or sale recommended by him. This gives him an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation to be received, rather than on a client's needs. Glass Jacobson believes that such conflict is addressed by fully disclosing to clients in its brochure and in its financial planning agreements that registered representatives may receive additional compensation on the purchase or sale of certain securities. Additionally, no client is under any obligation to act on Mr. Creamer's or Glass Jacobson's recommendation. If a client elects to act on any of the recommendations, the client is under no obligation to effect the transactions through Mr. Creamer or another registered representative of Triad who is also an investment adviser representative of Glass Jacobson.

Similarly, Mr. Creamer is licensed to sell life and health insurance products through various companies, and he may receive compensation in the form of commissions for the sale of such products. This creates a conflict similar to that with respect to his role as a registered representative of Triad. However, Glass Jacobson has addressed this conflict by fully disclosing to clients the potential for such conflict in its brochure and in its financial planning agreements. Additionally, clients are under no obligation to purchase insurance products through Mr. Creamer or other investment adviser representatives of Glass Jacobson and are free to choose the sources through which to implement any recommendation to purchase such life and health insurance products.

ITEM 2. EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Mr. Dinkins was born in 1955 and joined Glass Jacobson in 2002 as an investment advisor representative. He has been a Managing Member of the Company since 2004. Also, he is a Certified Public Accountant at Glass Jacobson, PA, a CPA firm owned by certain Members of the Company. Mr. Dinkins graduated with a B.B.A. in Accounting from Marshall University in 1977. He currently holds the following professional designations: CPA/PFS, CIMA®, AIF® and CMFC®.

Certified Public Accountant (CPA). CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

Personal Financial Specialist (PFS). The PFS credential demonstrates that an individual has met the minimum education, experience and testing required of a CPA in addition to a minimum level of expertise in personal financial planning. To attain the PFS credential, a candidate must hold an unrevoked CPA license, fulfill 3,000 hours of personal financial planning business experience, complete 80 hours of personal financial planning CPE credits, pass a comprehensive financial planning exam and be an active member of the AICPA. A PFS credential holder is required to adhere to the AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct, and is encouraged to follow the AICPA’s Statement on Responsibilities in Financial Planning Practice. To maintain their PFS credential, the recipient must complete 60 hours of financial planning CPE credits every three years. The PFS credential is administered through the AICPA.

Certified Investment Management Analyst (CIMA®). The Certified Investment Management Analyst (CIMA®) certification signifies that an individual has met initial and on-going experience, ethical, education, and examination requirements for investment management consulting, including advanced investment management theory and application. Prerequisites for the CIMA® certification are three years of financial services experience and an acceptable regulatory history. To obtain the CIMA® certification, candidates must pass an online Qualification Examination, successfully complete a one-week classroom education program provided by a Registered Education Provider at an AACSB accredited university business school, and pass an online Certification Examination. CIMA® designees are required to adhere to IMCA’s Code of Professional Responsibility, Standards of Practice, and Rules and Guidelines for Use of the Marks. CIMA® designees must report 40 hours of continuing education credits, including two ethics hours, every two years to maintain the certification.

Accredited Investment Fiduciary (AIF®). The Accredited Investment Fiduciary (AIF®) certifies that the recipient has advanced knowledge of fiduciary standards of care, their application to the investment management process, and procedures for assessing conformance by third parties to fiduciary standards. To be eligible to receive the AIFA designation, individuals must have already completed the AIF training program and passed the AIF exam and meet a minimum prerequisite score based on the candidate’s educational background and professional training and experience in investing, financial services and auditing. To receive the AIFA designation, individuals must complete a training program, successfully pass a comprehensive, closed-book final examination under the supervision of a proctor and agree to abide by the AIFA Code of Ethics. In order to maintain the AIFA designation, the individual must annually renew their affirmation of the AIFA Code of Ethics and complete ten hours of continuing education credits. The certification is administered by the Center for Fiduciary Studies, LLC (a Fiduciary360 (fi360) company).

Chartered Mutual Fund Counselor (CMFC®). The Chartered Mutual Fund Counselor (CMFC®) designation is conferred by the College For Financial Planning. To obtain this designation, applicants must complete a self-study program and final examination on different mutual fund topics designed to give the applicant a thorough understanding of mutual funds, and how they can be used as investment devices.

ITEM 2. EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Mr. Glass was born in 1933 and is the founder of Glass Jacobson, PA. He currently serves as an investment adviser representative/consultant to the Company since 2006. He graduated with a B.S. in Accounting from the University of Maryland in 1955 and is a Certified Public Accountant (CPA). Mr. Glass also serves as an independent contractor/accountant of Glass Jacobson, PA, a CPA firm owned by certain Members of the Company. Mr. Glass holds the following professional designation: CPA

Certified Public Accountant (CPA). CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two year period or 120 hours over a three year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

Investment Adviser Certified Compliance Professional® (IACCP®), The Investment Adviser Certified Compliance Professional® (IACCP®), program, co-sponsored by the Investment Adviser Association (IAA), is a professional education program developed by NRS in 2005 and co-sponsored since 2007 with the Investment Adviser Association (IAA), which acknowledges the heightened role of compliance and responds to the growing industry demand for advanced compliance education and nationally recognized professional standards. The Investment Adviser Certified Compliance Professional® (IACCP®) is granted to individuals who complete an online and/or in-person instructor-led program of study, pass a certifying examination, and meet its work experience, ethics and continuing education requirements.

(From Nrs-Inc.com)

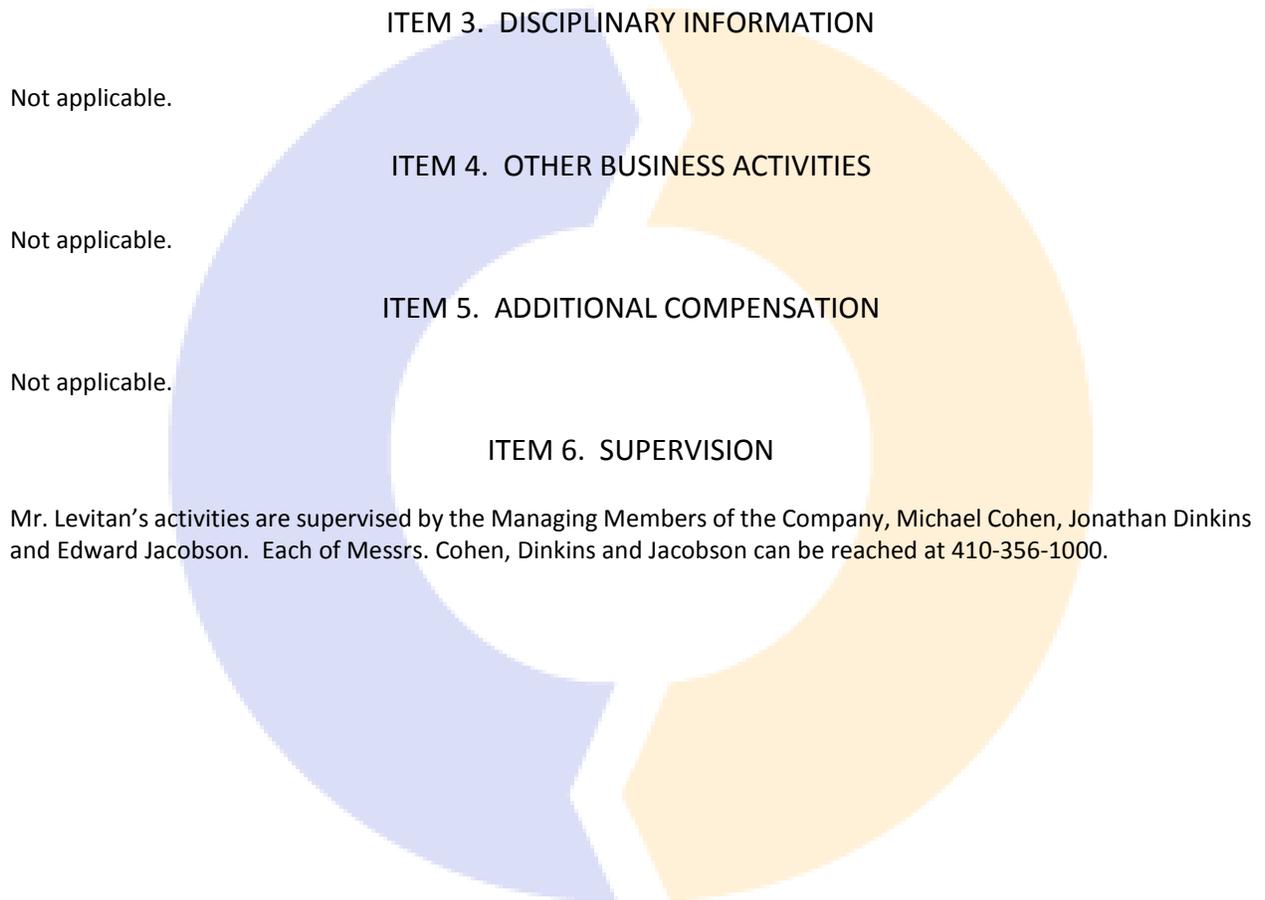

Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE). The Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE) credential denotes proven expertise in fraud prevention, detection and deterrence. CFEs are trained to identify the warning signs that indicate evidence of fraud and fraud risk. CFEs around the world work to protect the global economy by uncovering fraud and implementing processes to prevent fraud from occurring in the first place. CFEs have a unique set of skills that are not found in any other career field or discipline. They combine knowledge of complex financial transactions with an understanding of methods, law, and how to resolve allegations of fraud. CFEs must abide by the ACFE’s code of professional ethics, obtain a minimum of 20 hours of Continuing Professional Education (CPE) every 12-month period and pay annual membership dues to stay current in their profession. CFEs are required to certify CPE compliance by the end of their anniversary month.

Certified Anti Money Laundering Specialist (CAMS). The Certified Anti-Money Laundering Specialist (CAMS) credential is recognized internationally by financial institutions, governments and regulators as a serious commitment to protecting the financial system against money laundering. Institutions with CAMS-certified compliance teams: drive a culture of compliance from the top down by building highly skilled teams staffed with subject matter experts; demonstrate to regulators and examiners their dedication to a standardized risk-based approach for protecting against money laundering threats and financial crime risks; attract, retain and reward top talent by placing a premium on certified professionals; meet mandated AML training requirements through preparation and study, and satisfy ongoing training through recertification and advanced certification activities; and safeguard against financial and reputational damage. In order to maintain the integrity of the CAMS credential, graduates must undergo recertification every three years. During that three year period, each candidate must prove their commitment to continued education by earning 60 CAMS credits within that time in the areas of AML/CTF/financial crime prevention.

Additional information about Mr. Priddy is available on the SEC’s website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

ITEM 2. EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Mr. Priddy was born in 1974 and joined Glass Jacobson in August 2014 as an investment advisor representative. From 2003-2005, Mr. Priddy worked as a Trust Officer with SunTrust Bank. From 2005-2006, he was a registered representative with Great Nation Investment Group. From 2006-2008, he was a registered representative with Merrill Lynch, and from 2008-2010, dually serving as a registered representative with BB&T Asset Management and as a New Business Development Officer with BB&T. From 2010-2014, Mr. Priddy worked as a Senior Trust Advisor with PNC Wealth Management. For several months during 2014, Mr. Priddy worked as a Life and Health agent for Lincoln Financial Advisors. Since 2011, Mr. Priddy is the owner of Jason Priddy Real Estate Management. He received a B.B.A. in Trust Management from Campbell University and an M.B.A. from Campbell University, both conferred in 1998. Mr. Priddy holds the following designation, CRPC®.

Chartered Retirement Planning Counselor™ (CRPC®). Individuals who hold the CRPC® designation have completed a course of study encompassing pre- and-post retirement needs, asset management, estate planning and the entire retirement planning process using models and techniques from real client situations. Additionally, individuals must pass an end-of-course examination that tests their ability to synthesize complex concepts and apply theoretical concepts to real-life situations. All designees have agreed to adhere to Standards of Professional Conduct and are subject to a disciplinary process. Designees renew their designation every two-years by completing 16 hours of continuing education, reaffirming adherence to the Standards of Professional Conduct and complying with self-disclosure requirements.

ITEM 3. DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

ITEM 4. OTHER BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

Mr. Priddy is licensed to sell life and health insurance products through various companies, and he may receive compensation in the form of sales commissions for the sale of such products. Mr. Priddy or other investment adviser representatives of Glass Jacobson may recommend such life and health insurance products to its financial planning clients. A conflict of interest may exist between Mr. Priddy's interests and the interests of financial planning clients when Mr. Priddy makes such recommendations, because Mr. Priddy would receive a commission on the product recommended by him. This could provide an incentive for Mr. Priddy to recommend such products based on the possible commissions rather than on the client's needs. However, Glass Jacobson has addressed this conflict by fully disclosing to clients the potential for such conflict in its brochure and in its financial planning agreements. Additionally, clients are under no obligation to purchase insurance products through Mr. Priddy or other investment adviser representatives of Glass Jacobson and are free to choose the sources through which to implement any recommendation to purchase such life and health insurance products.

ITEM 5. ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION

Investment adviser representatives of Glass Jacobson, including Mr. Priddy, are eligible to receive a bonus each year that is based, at least in part, on the number of new clients/accounts they bring to the Company. Such bonus is based on the amount of fees generated from the new clients/accounts.

ITEM 2. EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Ms. Schmitz was born in 1951 and joined Glass Jacobson as an investment adviser representative in 2003. She is a Certified Public Accountant at Glass Jacobson, PA, a CPA firm owned by certain Members of the Company. She graduated with a Bachelor of Music from the Johns Hopkins University’s Peabody Institute in 1975, and earned a Certificate in Accounting from the University of Baltimore in 1982. Ms. Schmitz also earned an M.A., in Legal Studies, from the University of Baltimore in 1992. Ms. Schmitz currently holds the following professional designations: CPA/PFS, CFP®, LTCP, and RICP®.

Certified Public Accountant (CPA). CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two year period or 120 hours over a three year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

Personal Financial Specialist (PFS). The PFS credential demonstrates that an individual has met the minimum education, experience and testing required of a CPA in addition to a minimum level of expertise in personal financial planning. To attain the PFS credential, a candidate must hold an unrevoked CPA license, fulfill 3,000 hours of personal financial planning business experience, complete 80 hours of personal financial planning CPE credits, pass a comprehensive financial planning exam and be an active member of the AICPA. A PFS credential holder is required to adhere to the AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct, and is encouraged to follow the AICPA’s Statement on Responsibilities in Financial Planning Practice. To maintain their PFS credential, the recipient must complete 60 hours of financial planning CPE credits every three years. The PFS credential is administered through the AICPA.

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ (CFP®). The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ (CFP®) certification is awarded by the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards Inc. to individuals who meet education, examination, experience and ethics requirements. Educational requirements include completing a set of courses on financial planning or, alternatively, previously achieved certain designations such as a CPA or attorney. Currently, applicants must also pass a ten-hour examination, have at least three years of qualifying work experience in the profession, and must agree to adhere to a Code of Ethics. Every two years, all CFP® practitioners must meet re-accreditation requirements by obtaining 30 hours of continuing education credits, including two hours of ethics training.

Long-Term Care Professional (LTCP). In order to earn the Long-Term Care Professional (LTCP) designation, an individual must complete and pass an examination on each of four required workshops, each of which is based on a textbook written by leading experts in the long-term care insurance field.

Retirement Income Certified Professional® (RICP®). The Retirement Income Certified Professional® is awarded by The American College of Financial Services. Recipients acquire the expertise to turn assets into income in today's dynamic financial environment. Retirement income planning places the focus on transitioning from asset accumulation to creating a sustainable livelihood for clients in retirement. An individual must pass three examinations in order to obtain this designation.

ITEM 3. DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

Not applicable.

ITEM 4. OTHER BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

Ms. Schmitz also serves as a registered representative of Triad Advisors, Inc. ("TRIAD"), a registered broker-dealer (CRD No. 25803), member FINRA/SIPC. A conflict of interest may exist between Ms. Schmitz's interests and the interests of financial planning clients when Ms. Schmitz recommends securities that may be purchased through her as a registered representative of Triad. In such cases, Ms. Schmitz would receive a commission on the purchase or sale recommended by her. This gives her an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation to be received, rather than on a client's needs. Glass Jacobson believes that such conflict is addressed by fully disclosing to clients in its brochure and in its financial planning agreements that registered representatives may receive additional compensation on the purchase or sale of certain securities. Additionally, no client is under any obligation to act on Ms. Schmitz or Glass Jacobson's recommendation. If a client elects to act on any of the recommendations, the client is under no obligation to effect the transactions through Ms. Schmitz or another registered representative of Triad who is also an investment adviser representative of Glass Jacobson.

Similarly, Ms. Schmitz is licensed to sell life and health insurance products through various companies, and she may receive compensation in the form of commissions for the sale of such products. This creates a conflict similar to that with respect to her role as a registered representative of Triad. However, Glass Jacobson has addressed this conflict by fully disclosing to clients the potential for such conflict in its brochure and in its financial planning agreements. Additionally, clients are under no obligation to purchase insurance products through Ms. Schmitz or other investment adviser representatives of Glass Jacobson and are free to choose the sources through which to implement any recommendation to purchase such life and health insurance products.

ITEM 5. ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION

Investment adviser representatives of Glass Jacobson, including Ms. Schmitz, are eligible to receive a bonus each year that is based, at least in part, on the number of new clients/accounts they bring to the Company. Such bonus is based on the amount of fees generated from the new clients/accounts.

ITEM 6. SUPERVISION

Ms. Schmitz's activities are supervised by the Managing Members of the Company, Michael Cohen, Jonathan Dinkins and Edward Jacobson. Each of Messrs. Cohen, Dinkins and Jacobson can be reached at 410-356-1000. Ms. Schmitz may recommend to clients only those securities and other investments that are included on the Company's current list of "approved" investments. Thus, her advice and recommendations to clients are monitored by an administrative officer of Glass Jacobson, who confirms that trades placed for client accounts are limited to securities appearing on such "approved" list.

Additional information about Mr. White is available on the SEC’s website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

ITEM 2. EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Mr. White was born in 1956 and joined Glass Jacobson as an investment advisor representative in 2018. In addition, he has been a shareholder in Glass Jacobson, PA, a CPA firm owned by certain Members of the Company, since 2010. He graduated with a BS in Accounting from the University of Maryland in 1978. Mr. White currently holds the following professional designations: CPA, CVA®, MAFF®, CGMA.

Certified Public Accountant (CPA). CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two year period or 120 hours over a three year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

Certified Valuation Analyst (CVA®). The Certified Valuation Analyst (CVA®) designation is granted to applicants who: hold a business degree or certain professional designations; complete a 35-hour training program and course of study as prescribed by the National Association of Consultants, Valuators and Analysts (NACVA); pass a comprehensive examination; be a member in good standing with NACVA; and submit three personal and three business references.

Master Analyst in Financial Forensics® (MAFF®). The MAFF credential is designed to provide assurance to the legal and business communities—the primary users of financial litigation services—that the designee possesses a level of experience and knowledge deemed acceptable by the Association to provide competent and professional financial litigation support services. To earn the MAFF credential, candidates must attest to having met certain prerequisites and Experience Requirement, plus pass a five-hour proctored exam that tests to NACVA's Financial Forensics Body of Knowledge (FFBOK). Earning the credential requires consideration of all of the person's qualifications and commitment to the discipline; this includes prior education and experience, testing, and post-requisite requirements for recertification.

Chartered Global Management Accountant (CGMA). The Chartered Global Management Accountant (CGMA) is a global management accounting designation that recognizes the unique role played by men and women at organizations around the world who combine accounting and financial expertise with strategic insight to guide better business decisions. Additionally, it recognizes the management accounting experience and expertise of accountants in academia. Created through a joint venture of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) and the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (CIMA), the CGMA designation recognizes the competencies and expertise of management accountants who are leading the world's most successful organizations, and teaching at universities around the world, preparing the management accounting leaders of tomorrow. It demonstrates management accounting expertise in such areas as leading strategically with management to make more informed decisions; helping organizations manage change, risk and uncertainty; protecting corporate assets; and promoting operational efficiency and effectiveness.
